RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

s association of which no organization we gave count a few days since is now ready to dis of shares. As [illegible] and Homestead Association [illegible] the pioneer or ation of that kind in this city it may be enough to state what are its purposes and manner in which it is proposed to conduct its ations. The purposes of these Homestead ciations are not at all speculative in the or y sense of the word. They are dependent he profits of their investment upon the natu advance in the value of their lands conse t upon the operation of many individuals reholders and the advance on values of all bunding lands by reason of the extension of ation and demand for room outside of but near, the city. The Riverside Homestead ciation has a fraction over one hundred and ty acres of land situated just south of klyn on the east side of the river the near oundary line being about one m[illegible] from the y landing at East Portland. The tract lies he strip along the Wallamet river half a mile ngth and another strip along the Oregon and fornia railroad half a mile in length the two s being connected near the middle by two s of blocks (with a street between them) the le forming a figure not unlike the letter H divided into 74 blocks 200 feet square (with ets running at right angles) and 80 fraction- lots along the river front. The shares num- 600, worth $60 per share. It will be seen that are thus represents nearly a lot with an undi- d interest in the 80 fractional lots. The 80 frac- al shares are to be sold off at the proper time the benefit of the Association shareholders ing in for the proceeds in proportion to the mber of shares held. When all shares are n and the Association shall deter- e to do it the choice of lots and blocks be put up at auction to the highest der the proceeds of such sale after deducting original price of shares or lots to be divided ally among the whole number of shares. is if a person wants a particular lot or block, l is willing to pay $100 or $800 premium (more less as the case may be) he pays it and takes lot or block as his individual property the mium being divided among the whole number shareholders. It will be seen therefore that rything is co operative and all interests mu) No man can make a dollar out of it with also making a dollar for every other equal reholder. There is no chance for loss unless property, by some chance, should depreciate below the first actual cost. Whether this is ble to happen in the case of this particular et of land must be judged by each for himself considering the steady and unprecedented ad hoe on real estate in this city and neighbor od, and at East Portland and vicinity, for the t year or two it seems hardly possible for ues to go back.

In the Riverside Association all proper pr[illegible] ns seem to have been taken to guard against nopolies of shares. No person is allowed to y more than the number of shares representing ree blocks, or twenty four lots, and votes [illegible] rmining the operations of the Association are tricted in the same manner. The buyers of ares may pay down $60 per share, which will empt them from all assessments, or they may y $15 quarterly with an assessment of $3 per are, payable with the first installment being ble in this latter case to another (and only one her) assessment of $8 per share. Upon yment of the shares in full, with the [illegible] above, the holder is entitled to his certificate d his proportion of all the profits accrued from sources. No officer of the Association receives y pay for services except the Secretary, who s $25 per month so it will be seen that the penses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river high plateau nearly level, about 80 to 90 feet ove the water. There is no part of the front w of blocks but commands a splendid view of ortland and the river for miles up and down ream. That part of the tract lying along the ilroad is every foot of it, of the richest loam il and adapted to gardening purposes. A beauti ful little stream of pure water runs through most the entire length of this wing of the tract, fording the means of irrigation and power suf fient to supply pure water to every part of the hole tract. There is not a waste lot or fractional t in the entire tract. Under all these advan ges, it would seem impossible that there should any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a ar each shareholder if he choose may get a rfect title to as many lots as his shares may present, or he may continue his interest, undi- ded, with the Association while the organiza- on may exist.—Oregonian

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the ct that the subject of making homesteads on the out rts of this city and East Portland is being thoroughly scussed here among all classes and one homestead—the Riverside" just south of East Portland—has already en established. The site selected is a tract of land ly- g a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is aped like the letter H one side of which a half mile length borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead which is elevated a [illegible] above the [illegible] can be had an exten- rty or [illegible] view of Portland East Portland [illegible] and ve view of Portland [illegible] the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very rtile and a part of it covered with light fir timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks [illegible] an avenue between them connects the west prong [illegible] the H which has already been described) with that on e east. This last tract of land is in a beautiful little alley which is now under a high state of cultivation, through its whole length runs a trout brook the water which is clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the [illegible] through [illegible] to every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin

The Czar's Manifesto

From the New York Tribune

When Prince Gortschakoff in his Imperial master's behalf addresses the civilized world as he takes care to do but rarely, we may be sure that his statement is as cogent and as forcible as the facts will permit. And we think no impartial person having carefully perused his memorandum dispatch to Baron Brunnow of the 19th ult (O S) will say that we do not fairly present its substance as follows: In 18[illegible] Russia fighting single handed against France, Great Britain, Turkey and Sardinia found herself overmatched and well nigh exhausted, so her young Emperor felt constrained to purchase peace by submitting to onerous and humiliating conditions. In 1870 Russia having recovered from the staggering blows dealt her in the Crimean war and seeing the strongest of her antagonists in that struggle nearly prostrate under the iron heel of victorious Germany gives notice that she repudiates and will no longer conform to the stipulations by which she bound herself in 1856. We say this is Prince Gortschakoff's real case and that his talk of successive violations of the Treaty of Paris by other parties to it is simply an able statesman's labored and skillful assignment of pretexts for an act of which they manifestly were in no wise the incitement and cannot serve as the justification.

Nor can any weight be given to his averment that Russia purposes to nullify and override those articles only of the Treaty of Paris which restrain her from launching ships of war on the Euxine and maintaining arsenals upon its coast. What she does assume (as Earl Granville justly says) is a right to decide for herself without even asking the assent of the other parties to that Treaty, to nullify such portions of that Treaty as she sees fit at such times and for such reasons as her own Government shall think proper. If she may thus annul two articles to day she may surely do the same by the residue to morrow. If she had now given notice that she reclaimed and was preparing to occupy, that portion of Bessarabia which she retroceded to Turkey by the Paris Treaty her attitude would be no more belligerent and menacing than it is. Nay, the accession of a Prussian prince to the headship of Moldo Wallachia furnishes a more plausible pretext for the reclamation of Russian territory then surrendered to that quasi-Turkish principality than for repudiating a maritime adjustment which the destruction by her of the Turkish fleet at Sinope had proved essential to the repose of Europe but nowise related to the navigation of the Danube or the boundaries of Moldo-Wallachia.

In stating the case as it is we are not passing judgment upon Russia. We presume it was tolerably clear to all parties, at the moment of signing the Paris Treaty, that Russia would be controlled by it exactly so long as she should feel unable to do otherwise. When Prussia was dismembered by Napoleon after Jena and compelled to resign half her territory she recognized no moral obligation to submit to that mutilation an hour longer than she must. If France should to morrow cede Alsace and Lorraine to Germany as the price of peace no one imagines that she would not reclaim them at the cannon's mouth, if, ten years hence she should see Berlin invested by a Russian or Austrian army and Prussia at the mercy of her invader. If a European coalition should worst this country and constrain it to cede Long Island and Maine as the price of peace we should surely meditate their reclamation at the first favorable conjuncture. It were absurd to exact of Russia a reverence for engagements contracted under duress whereof history affords few examples.

The most glaringly exceptional feature of the demonstration is its abruptness. Russia has chosen to take without the decorous preliminary of asking. Had she seen fit to propose a European Congress for the primary purpose of arresting the carnage and devastation now covering unhappy France with blood stained ruins, frankly stating that she should seek of that Congress a modification of the harsh conditions imposed on her by the Treaty of Paris she would have entitled herself to general respect if not active sympathy. But she disdains even to solicit of Turkey a mutual application to Europe for a removal of restraints which (superficially) fetter them alike but bluntly announces her purpose as though her will were the supreme law. She does not even demand—she simply takes. Submission on the part of England would be a confession of weakness equivalent to an abdication of all future influence—all moral weight in the politics of the Continent.

Yet England may well pause in view of the glaring weakness of her prospective allies. Turkey is in truth the sick man that the late Czar Nicholas so truly declared her and trembles on the verge of dissolution. Her Sultan little better than a debauched prodigal idiot her ruling class corrupt and rapacious beyond relief. Italy has not fairly completed her reconstruction with her strength sapped by sacerdotal hate and intrigue and her finances hopelessly disordered while Austria labors likewise under chronic financial embarrassment and still reels from the blow dealt her power and prestige at Sadowa barely four years ago. If a war against Russia should be undertaken every one of these allies will appeal to England for subsidies wherewith to equip and move their armies [illegible] will press loans upon the London market [illegible] with [illegible] less [illegible] Government. On the whole, we shall distrust all portents of a war so far reaching and so likely to endure until its formal declaration shall render persistent skepticism impossible.

PARISIAN JESTS. A correspondent of the New York Times writing from Paris [illegible] gives the following examples of the "jests" indulged in by the Parisians:

Despite the many examples of the danger of practical jokes given in many volumes the people [illegible] seem to learn wisdom. We have lately had several sad experiences. A young wife carrying food to her husband on the ramparts was suddenly told [illegible] that he had just been killed by the Prussians. The poor woman fell exhausted but not fainting and although her husband soon came to her she could not be roused from her lethargy. She died during the night. The next [illegible] a woman sent the [illegible] house [illegible] a neighbor to say that her husband had just [illegible] killed. When the husband came back at night he found his wife a maniac and there are [illegible] hopes [illegible] very. [illegible] is now seriously ill because told that her [illegible] had been killed. Such practical jokes ought to be made crimes under the law.

MINUTE MACHINERY. A correspondent of the Times writing from [illegible] says: The most extraordinary machine in the exhibition is beyond question the one for microscopic writing. This enables a person to write in the usual way and [illegible] the writing [illegible] million times smaller [illegible] so that it is invisible to the naked eye yet with a powerful microscope becomes so plain that every line and letter can be seen. The inventor claims that with this instrument [illegible] can copy the entire Bible twenty two times in the space of an inch. The Astor Library [illegible] could be transferred to a sheet of note paper. Practically it will be of great service in preventing forgeries. With one of these machines a private mark can be put on bills so minute and perfect that the forger can neither perceive nor imitate it but the bank clerk or broker knowing where to look can at once detect that the bill is genuine. The machine is the invention of a Mr Peters.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO DECEMBER 3

More Fighting

LONDON Dec —The Duke of Mecklenburg says an engagement occurred Friday near Nantes. After a hot fight the French were defeated and driven back to Artenay. The Sixteenth French army corps were driven to [illegible]. Several hundred prisoners and eleven guns were taken.

TOURS Dec —Fighting continues with the army of the Loire, without advantage to either side. The Prussians are repulsed from Antes.

Germans Evacuate Amiens

LILLE Dec 3 —The evacuation of Amiens by the Germans is confirmed. They blew up the bridge between Albert and Amiens to protect their retreat.

Manteuffel is hastening towards Paris.

Movements around Paris

LONDON Dec 3 The fighting at [illegible] was severe the Germans being exposed to a heavy fire from the French forts but at 4 P M the French were compelled to retire, leaving many prisoners. The French wounded refused the offer to be sent back to Paris.

Gambetta has issued an address saying the army of the Loire will remain entrenched at present and that Ducrot has not met the opposition he expected.

LONDON Dec 4 —Two sorties occurred yesterday. One of them was repulsed. In the other the French gained and took some villages near Brie sur Marne.

A shell was accidentally fired into Paris Dec 2. The French lost 1,800 prisoners, twenty superior officers and nine guns.

The bombardment of Belfort is commenced.

Turkey will accept the conference. Granville insists on the withdrawal of the original circular.

CALIFORNIA

Storms in California

YREKA, Dec 5 —It commenced storming here last evening, and stormed all night. About six inches of snow fell during the day. There is two feet of snow in Trinity Valley. Snow is reported to be from four to five feet on Scott Mountain. No stage came over the mountain to day. It has rained hard all day in the Sacramento Valley.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

SALEM, Dec 5 —The city election passed off to day quietly. The only contest was on the Marshalship. J W Fisher (Independent) beats Glover Republican nominee for that office. The City Council stands four Democrats to four Republicans.

Bazaine's Treachery

A correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin writes from Tours (France), as follows:

Bazaine's treason is established by the officers who served under him in Metz when 3 marshals, 6 000 officers and 172 000 soldiers with 675 pieces of cannon and 100 [illegible] were bagged by the Prussians. The mission of the glorious Bazaine was to weaken the maiden fortress by eating out with his big army all her provisions and acting as a decoy duck, to draw the fresh armies raised by the Republic into a snare. I did not until the fall of Metz understand why the organs of the Emperor published here and at [illegible] were so anxious to send the raw recruits forming the army of the Loire, to the relief of Metz. Bazaine transmitted by balloons tremendously exaggerated reports of sorties which were made, to conceal his real plans from the army, and to get the men killed who were known to have been inimical to the Empire. Soldiers whose families live in great towns or manufacturing centres were called from the different regiments and formed into [illegible]. The poor fellows who had the courage to vote against the plebiscite last May were all marked by their officers as suspects and the Emperor's marshals had sufficient courage to order them to the front where the Prussians shot them. When Gambetta applied the epithet of traitor to Bazaine the Imperialists organs protested against what they said was a groundless calumny. The Tours Government met this charge by an address to the army, in which the glorious soldier of Metz was treated as an outlaw and the publication in the M[illegible] of a kind of acte d'accusation drawn up by an officer of the Army of the Rhine who had served under Bazaine, by the name of De Valcourt. M de Valcourt can only explain Bazaine's conduct since August 14 by the hypothesis of a secret understanding between him the Emperor and Bismarck. Instead of giving his men, when the march towards Gravelotte was ordered the usual ration of 90 cartouches he stinted them to 10. He cannot plead as an extenuating circumstance that he did not expect to encounter the Prussians for scouts came in to tell him that they were in great force on the road which he was taking. The Emperor at this point struck from the highway along a vicinal route to Verdun and was able to escape to Chalons. Why did not Bazaine follow him? Because he wanted to be beaten back upon Metz which could have held out ten months without him. In ordering the march on Gravelotte Bazaine placed the sumpter mules and other camp [illegible] between the infantry and the ammunition wagons. When the [illegible] of cartridges were exhausted the French troops were thrown back on cavalry and white arms. The havoc caused by the Prussian artillery on the front regiments was frightful whilst [illegible] the Marshal was being covered. All the wounded were abandoned on the road and the baggage which contained nearly a month's provisions fell into the hands of the enemy. The grand sortie of August 31st was only a feint. Bazaine said he was going to aid McMahon on the Belgian frontier which he could easily have done. But what proves the insincerity of his assertion is the fact that all the ammunition which he would have wanted for a pitched battle was left in the island of Chambrière, in the centre of the town of Metz. Bazaine [illegible] the subsequent sorties which he [illegible] planned. He pretended in planning them that his intention was to cut his way through the German lines. But the officer who conducted these affairs had orders to go no further than certain points near the enemy's outposts so that when they reached these points to retreat immediately on Metz. The prodigality of food, for which the officers and soldiers' messes were remarkable, became a cause of scandal in the town and General Coffinières the governor and the municipality made several attempts to have the army limited to a certain quantity of bread and meat daily. But all their representations were fruitless through out the month of September and the first fortnight of October it being part of Bazaine's plan to [illegible] the resources of the garrison and to pamper his soldiers by means of whom he intended to impose the Empress and the Prince Imperial on France and to become the virtual regent.

The oldest paper in the United States is the New Hampshire Gazette published at Portsmouth. It began its existence in August 1756. The next is the Newport Mercury in Rhode Island which was started in September 1758 by James Franklin son of James Franklin and nephew of Benjamin Franklin. The third in age is the [illegible] which first appeared in [illegible] 1764. The Courant is now printed [illegible] as a weekly and daily and was never better than at present. It was established by Thomas Green. The fourth is the Spy. And these four are the only papers in the country which existed previous to the revolution.

The Republican majority in the First District of Minnesota is nearly 5 000. This district, two years ago owing to a Republican quarrel, was carried by the Democrats.

FOREIGN NOTES

The little girls in almost all the public schools of Germany are engaged in knitting stockings for the German soldiers.

Quite a number of Queen Victoria's Sixtieth Rifles having indulged in the impropriety of getting married without leave, the British Government now refuses to furnish free passage for their wives from Canada to England.

The French postage stamps now bear a figure of Liberty representing the Republic with the legend Liberty Equality and Fraternity. The foreign journals announce that after November 1 the stamps bearing the head of Napoleon III would not be recognized in payment of postage.

A novel collection for the Flemish countries which have suffered most is now going on in Western Germany. The farmers are asked to contribute part of their potatoes for the starving population. They come in so plentifully that there are not freight cars enough to transport them.

There is among the London charitable institutions one called The Destitute Childrens Dinner Society. Fifty eight dining rooms were kept open last winter, and about 150 000 dinners given. But the benefits of the charity were restricted to children who were pupils at the Ragged or other schools.

A state official in New Zealand who had the handling of the money, recently put all the scrip in his pocket and left for other parts. This step is purely American but the next isn't. They pursued and caught him, had a trial, and the fellow was given one hundred lashes, branded on the shoulder and sent to prison for ten years.

The woman's rights movement, in the vicinity of Ottawa, Canada received a new impetus a few days since, by the challenge of an Englishwoman, the wife of a laborer on the Canada Central Railway to fight any man on the line for $100 a side. Her husband had, but a short time previously, been victorious in a prize fight in which she had seconded him. The challenge remains unaccepted.

French prisoners in Germany say they like it tolerably well in that country, and have even become reconciled, in some measure, to the fare they get, only the black rye bread which is given to them remains as unpalatable as ever and they express their contempt for the same by pointing to their feet meaning that it is as black as their boots. German bakers reap a rich harvest from this, for the prisoners spend their last sou to buy wheat bread.

A horrible crime occurred in the little town of Griesbächerzell, in Upper Bavaria. A young peasant and his wife were attacked at night in their house by a former lover of the wife. He tied them to their bed and then set fire to the house. The two victims were drawn from the flames only when the husband was dead and the wife was expiring. The poor woman disclosed the deed of horror in her last moments. A search was immediately instituted for the fiend, but he had fled into the mountains.

The splendid spectacle of the aurora borealis gave rise to a most extraordinary scene at Caltanisetta, Sicily. On perceiving the unwonted appearance of the sky the inhabitants rushed out of their houses in wild dismay, trembling and shrieking. Some threw up their hands in despair towards the blood red heavens, imploring mercy and forgiveness. Others leaped about the streets with violent gesticulations and cries of "The end is come" or fell upon their knees, beating their breasts and confessing their sins aloud.

POLITICAL NOTES

The St Paul (Minn.) Press calls General Butler the "stormy petrel" of American politics.

A Massachusetts Republican Jas Foord of Dedham, received the flattering compliment of a unanimous vote for Register of Deeds of Norfolk county at the State election. Nearly 10 000 citizens voted for him.

The assertion that the success of Gratz Brown in Missouri implies the transfer of that State to the Democracy is combatted by the St Louis Democrat, which adduces figures to prove that the Republicans have a clear majority of fourteen thousand over their opponents, including the newly enfranchised class.

Ex Governor Curtin says that the earnest effort about to be made to secure a general revision of the Constitution of Pennsylvania must meet with the cordial approval and enlist the positive efforts of the best men of both parties for the necessity of a thorough reform is apparent to everybody.

It seems that the Virginia Democracy—or Conservatives rather for they affect to repudiate the name of Democracy—have taken lessons of Tammany Hall on a small scale, and have counted out Judge Alexander H Rives, the Republican candidate in the Fifth District who is elected by a clear majority of the actual votes. This result has been obtained by rejecting the vote of a number of Republican precincts where there was a technical informality in the returns. Congress will remedy the matter.

From a Washington dispatch (Nov 20) to the New York Tribune we quote: Senator Schurz remarked to day in conversation, that the great question at issue in the late election in Missouri was not the tariff but the question of amnesty and suffrage. He said that if there had been a difference of opinion on the so called revenue reform alone, it would have been compromised in the Republican State Convention. He thinks there is a great sentiment in the West in favor of a reduction of the tariff but he is not sure that it will be made the basis of a new party organization. In many districts the people are not in favor of protecting any industry except that in which they are interested. The Senator intimated that such might be the case among the iron manufacturers of Missouri though the late election gave no indication of how they would vote on the question of tariff.

The recent declaration of the Chicago Tribune in favor of a reorganization of party issues and party lines making the question of protection and free trade the pivotal point of political action and discussion has attracted some attention. The Washington Chronicle seems to think that there is already a new party having Senator Trumbull as its leading spirit. The Boston Advertiser sees nothing of the kind in the political horizon. The Springfield Republican mentions that parties, like poets, are born not made: they will not spring forth at the spurt of an editor's pen or obey the nod of a bolters' convention. A single State may be carried on a new issue but one State cannot maintain a national party. The Chicago Tribune it thinks has applied for its patent before getting out a working model of the new party. The men named by the former paper as supporters of the "new party"—Bryant, Wendell Phillips, Garrison, Beecher, Trumbull, Schurz, David A. Wells, Sumner, John A. Logan, Gov Palmer, Frederick Douglass, etc.—would make, says the Republican, a brilliant list of lyceum lecturers but could no more work together as the chiefs of a great party than they could sail a fleet.

Every Englishman has his joke about the new postal cards. Punch has a cut [illegible] ing a venerable landlady [illegible] in amaze [illegible] one of the new open letters addressed to her lodger with this inscription: Marlboro House. Dear Joe: Look in to tea and shrimps on your way home to night. We're all alone and the Princess and the young ones'll be delighted. Yours ever Albert Edward. "Well if ever I did! I'd no idea! An I was just goin to give the poor dear young fellow a bit o my mind about his rent." N B. The stratagem was successful.

The McGarrahan Case.

GENERAL BUTLER'S VIEW OF IT

LOWELL Nov 17 1870

To the Editor of the New York Standard

My attention has been called to the several statements of the newspapers about the McGarrahan claim, and its relation to the controversy between Secretary Cox and the President. I do not think the merits and the position of the case are exactly understood by the country; certainly one view of them has not to my knowledge been stated.

It became my duty, as a member of the Judiciary Committee of the House to take part in the investigation of the case and to hear the very long and able arguments on either side in behalf of the McGarrahan claim and that of the New Idria Company for many days during the last Congress and after the fullest investigation and the most patient thought I could give to the subject—and, I will add, from motives of personal friendship to those urging the claim on the part of McGarrahan. I found myself unable to come to the conclusion that McGarrahan had any right in the premises.

His claim may be stated briefly in a few words. Almost at the very moment of abandonment of California by Michael Torrena the Mexican Governor, one of the clerks in the office of his commissary Vincente P Gomez claims that Michael Torrena gave him a grant of the large amount of land now in dispute containing many leagues and alleged to be worth a number of millions. The proper and formal documentary evidence however, of the title were not found in the Mexican archives. The claim was brought before the Land Commission established by Congress to adjust such titles, and was by them rejected. Upon appeal to the District Court however after the decision of the Fremont case the claim was adjusted by that court in favor of Gomez, the clerk in the Commissary Department, under whom McGarrahan claims. But the unfortunate fact was that one Pacificus Ord the United States District Attorney who ought to have protected the rights of the United States, was at the same moment a joint owner in the claim having purchased half of it of Gomez—a fact which, in my judgment, taints the whole proceeding, and this taint is not in any way lessened because in other Mexican grants Gomez admits that he was accustomed to forge the title grants in such claims, showing his capability in that line by doing it in open Court in presence of the Judge. After adjudication of the District Court, and before any appeal was taken, McGarrahan without any notice of the fraud of Gomez, for aught that appears, except that the papers show that Ord the District Attorney, was owner of an interest in the claim, bought the claim for a valuable consideration.

But the United States represented by the late Edwin M Stanton, afterward appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and after proceedings there of great length and cost—some of which could well have been different, and which it is unnecessary to go into—the claim was adjudicated as wholly void and set aside.

In the meantime some four persons had entered upon the land under the mining laws of California, and under the name of the New Idria Mining Company had developed the quicksilver mine in the land in dispute worth as is alleged some $5 000,000. This Company has always appeared in the Courts and before Congress in various forms as the opponents of McGarrahan claiming title to the land and the question has always been dealt with as if it were one interesting only to these two claimants.

McGarrahan sought an act of Congress confirming the title of the land to himself upon the ground that he bought without knowledge of any defect in the Gomez title, if any exists, after the judgment of a United States Court had been given confirming that title. The majority of the Committee were not convinced of the validity of his claim or of his equitable rights, because, first, Gomez did not appear ever to have had any title, and secondly, that the very ingenious and able attempt to import the principles of law securing the rights of purchasers, without notice, of commercial paper before it is due, into the law concerning real property could scarcely succeed. Upon that point the Committee were inclined to hold that a purchaser of land bought no greater title than the seller had to sell however much title the seller might have appeared to have and for that, and because the matter had been fully adjudicated in the Courts reported against the pretensions of Mr McGarrahan.

Before going on with the hearing, however, the committee directed its chairman to request the Secretary of the Interior not to issue a patent to anybody to the land until the committee had finished the investigation in the premises. This request of the committee the Secretary at first promised to comply with, but afterward was very unwilling to adhere to his promise being quite desirous apparently, to give a patent to the New Idria Company and asked the opinion of the Attorney General whether he was bound to withhold the patent at the request of the committee. Of course the Attorney General replied that he was not so bound by law, but the committee came to the conclusion that they would make it very inconvenient for Mr Cox, if he would not listen to their suggestion and keep his promise to them. The Secretary, however upon consideration, thought it best not to issue the patent till the committee had finished their labors.

When the Committee had agreed upon a report as to the rights of McGarrahan not with unanimity, however one of their number suggested another consideration as seeming to him worthy of investigation which was that while the United States had spent some quarter of a million of dollars more or less in defending this land from McGarrahan's claim all that money seemed to have been spent in the interest of the New Idria Mining Company and that member of the Committee desired to inquire by what title the New Idria Mining Company claimed to hold the land and was informed it was only under the mining laws of California. He then raised the question in the Committee how it was that four persons who could only hold under the mining laws of California as it was understood one thousand feet each of mining lands could claim many leagues of land against the United States.

In the waning hours of the session just then closing there was no time to summon the New Idria Mining Company to make good their title or further to investigate the same and it was suggested that the whole matter lie over till the next Congress and that in the meantime no patent should issue to anybody until the rights of the United States could be determined.

It seems that during the vacation of Congress the New Idria Company pressed upon Secretary Cox and he was about as his letter shows to issue a patent to them, which would have been good as against the United States. The President interfered to prevent it. It is generally understood that that interference is in behalf of McGarrahan. I do not believe that McGarrahan has any interest in the question whatever but that the people of the United States have of right millions of property in that claim which an earnest and careful investigation, in which the Government should be represented will show to belong to it. The President has only been holding the title to the land in statu quo until the Committee of the House of Representatives get through with the investigation and determine what the rights of the United States are in the premises. [illegible]

I am yours very truly

Accurate Figuring

It is really amusing to witness the efforts of the opposition press to make it appear that the Republicans will not have a sure and strong majority in the next Congress. The tables they present are of the most extraordinary fabrication. We notice one in the Oregon City Enterprise which may be taken as a specimen. In that table Alabama is credited with two Republican and four Democratic members, when the delegation from that State will be equally divided. Illinois is credited with but seven Republicans whereas eight Republicans are elected. New Jersey is given two Republicans and three Democrats when in fact the delegation stands two Democrats and three Republicans. Tennessee is put down for eight Democratic members. The delegation stands two Republicans and six Democrats. In Virginia the Republicans are allowed but two and the Democrats are given six. The actual count gives the Republicans one more and the Democrats one less. Ohio is set down for twelve Republicans and seven Democrats. The Ohio Democrats themselves claim only five members and concede to the Republicans fourteen. There are several other errors of like nature in the Enterprise. A still more extraordinary table appeared in the Herald two or three days ago in which it was claimed that the Democrats had elected 117 members, or just thirty more than they have actually secured. Do these papers suppose that they can make the case different from what it is by figuring it so? If not, what is their object? When they try, as the Oregon City paper does, to make it appear that "the next Congress will stand opposed to the President and his policy," they must be very ambitious to get up a reputation for unreliability among their readers.

A Chance to Join the "New Party."

B Gratz Brown, the great Radical, who has been elected Governor of Missouri mainly by Democratic votes, now counsels that party to cut loose from its old dogmas, to cease prating against equal rights for the colored race, to renounce generally the obsolete ideas it has been contending for during so many years, and to accept as irreversible the results which have been accomplished by the war and since the war ended. And he congratulates the Democracy in this strain:

> Now, my friends, let me tell you another thing. I recognize the fact that the Democratic party of the State of Missouri has done this thing—it has elevated itself upon a higher platform than it ever occupied before. It has gone for the rights of all men, and in so doing it has made an initiative for the future that will go through all the States of the Union. It has cut itself loose from all the trammels and obstructions of the past, and it has made a platform upon which the young men of this nation can stand—a platform where they can stand disembarrassed of all the antecedents that have gone before them; disembarrassed of all that retinue of party machinery that has kept them down heretofore, and where they can move forward in the spirit and in the light of a pure Democracy, advancing to the conquest of the future.

Are the Democracy of Oregon ready to cast their principles behind them and accept the situation in the way in which, as Gratz Brown says, the Missouri Democracy have done? Are they prepared to "disembarrass themselves of all their antecedents?" If so they can go with the "revenue reformers" and help to swell the ranks of the "new party."

The Missouri "Bolt."

It appears that the Missouri "bolters" are beginning to manifest a desire to return to the Republican camp. We take the following from the Missouri Democrat, the organ of the "bolt:"

> A little the coolest thing on record is the Republican's claim that B. Gratz Brown is a Democrat. Throughout the canvass it took especial pains to deny this, and more than once went out of its way to make Democrats feel that neither McClurg nor Brown had any claim upon them. We imagine that if the candidate was not a Democrat, the Governor will not be!
>
> Gentlemen! don't flatter nor deceive yourselves. The next Governor of Missouri is not named Senter. He is a courteous gentleman, and he treats with courtesy those who, having voted for him, knowing that he was a Republican, congratulate him upon his victory. On such an occasion it would be churlish for him not to acknowledge the manliness of those who voted to secure equal rights to all men, without distinction of color or participation in a past rebellion. It would be churlish not to thank those who gave him a large proportion of the votes he received. But any donkey who builds on such foundation a belief that B. Gratz Brown will now be a Democratic Governor, may find it profitable to possess his soul in patience yet a little longer!
> Remember, gentlemen! from the beginning to the end of the canvass we, the supporters of Gratz Brown, did not bid for your votes nor buy them. We took stand upon what we deemed and declared to be "vital Republican principles," and nominated a man who fitly represents and bravely advocates those principles. Democrats saw fit to support that man, and to accept and secure victory for those principles. We are very glad of it. The man is one of the oldest as well as one of the truest Republicans in the State, and he will make a first rate Governor. The principles are none the less "vital Republican principles" because a host of Democrats adopt and sustain them.

A Washington paper, noting the very common belief since the war in many parts of the country, that the colored population of the United States is rapidly decreasing, produces statistics furnished by the present census which confute the supposition. The belief was based upon a consideration of the destitute circumstances in which the colored people were placed by emancipation. Declarations have been frequently made that a condition of freedom was fatal to their increase, and that the race would speedily become extinct on this continent. The census returns furnish a substantial contradiction to such views. While the exact figures cannot be given, it can be stated that no considerable decrease will be shown, and it now appears that 1870 will show a slight increase over 1860 in the colored population notwithstanding all the extraordinary causes operating to produce an opposite result.

One of the direct results of the enterprise of the "great monopolist," whom the Herald spends most of its time and space in opposing, has been to double and treble the value of the real estate which the editor of that paper holds in this city. The editor therefore can afford to oppose the "monopolist," since the increase in the value of his property gives him capital to do it with.

The New York Herald, speaking of the attempt of a few dissatisfied politicians, headed by the Chicago Tribune, to start a new party, says: "Its only effect thus far appears to have been to bring the Republicans more closely together and to make the weak kneed tremble to the soles of their boots." The attempt, it declares, is "the worst fizzle yet."

The Yreka Journal has this: Quincy A. Brooks, former postal agent, passed through town with his family, last week. We are informed that he has located 8,000 acres of land in the Klamath Lake section in Oregon as swamp lands, under a new Oregon State law.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS ITEMS

A New York telegram of the 4th says that Gen. Beauregard on that day sailed for France.

An Albany, N. Y., dispatch of Nov. 30th says: Hon. Isaiah Blood, of this county, a man of immense wealth and Democratic State Senator, died last night.

An official letter has been received at Washington from a prominent military officer now in the West in which he declares his impression that the Indians will enter upon a general war at the opening of the spring. The Indians assert that they have been badly treated by the army officers.

When the Senate meets the new Senator from Minnesota in place of Senator Norton deceased will present his credentials. This, with the Senators from Georgia, Farmer and Whitley, whose credentials were presented but who were not sworn in at the last session, will make a full Senate for the first time since 1860.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue in his report just published, mentions that the repeal of the stamp on receipts operates practically as a repeal of the tax upon demands and sight drafts and bank checks. A person gives the bank a receipt in lieu of a check, which the bank uses as a voucher. This practice is increasing, and seems likely to become general and at present the law provides no remedy.

A Washington dispatch of the 30th says: An important item of Southern news, which seems to have been for some time suppressed, reached here by mail yesterday, to the effect that E. M. Yerger, who murdered Colonel Crane in Jackson, Mississippi, more than a year ago, and whose escape caused so much excitement throughout the whole South, has on a second trial been convicted and imprisoned for life. It is stated that the jury was composed of negroes.

The Government having paid considerable amounts in interest on bonds of the various Pacific railroads which it had guaranteed, which sums have not yet been paid into the Treasury, Secretary Boutwell has notified the Chief of the Warrant Department not to issue any more warrants for payment of Government freights or transportation on the Kansas Pacific, Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads until these reimburse the Government for amounts already advanced. In consequence of this action there is a considerable excitement among the agents of the above corporations, who have been for some time endeavoring to get their account settled. The Union Pacific owes $2,283,229, the Kansas Pacific owes $185,169, and the Central Pacific owes $2,020,129. The balance due from other Pacific roads is comparatively small.

THE TERRITORIES.

In Bitter Root Valley, Montana, 450 bushels of Norway Oats were raised last harvest from seven bushels of seed.

The Idaho Legislature assembled yesterday. For the first time in the history of the Territory there is a considerable sprinkling of Republicans in that body.

Ex Governor Ashley, of Montana, left Helena for the east on the 26th ult., armed with a lecture entitled "Montana, and the Coming Empire of the Pacific Slope."

We learn from a Montana paper that the great sixty mile race at Deer Lodge between Lizard and Billy Bay, for $1,000 a side, was won by the former. Time, four hours, 45 minutes and five seconds, including all stoppages. In the 59th mile Billy Bay was drawn off, being four and a half miles behind Lizard. The race created great excitement at Deer Lodge.

The "prevailing disease" at Boise City is thus described in a local paper: "A frightful disorder has broken out in this place which is rapidly assuming an epidemic form, and like other contagious diseases, it becomes more virulent as winter approaches. The patient first becomes gloomy, is completely prostrated by depression of spirits, followed by chills pervading the entire system, and particularly the extremities. He now manifests an unquenchable thirst for stimulating drink and hugs the stove and fire-place, and is generally found in bar rooms and hotels. The disease confines itself to male adults, and is very severe upon those who have no visible means of gaining an honest livelihood." We suppose, though the Boise paper does not say so, that one of the symptoms of the disease manifests itself in the incoherent mutterings of the victim about the ruinous competition of Chinese labor.

Boston a Beer drinking City.

A Boston letter to the Chicago Journal says:

The official figures sent to Washington last week show that 280,117 barrels of beer were manufactured by the fifteen breweries in the Third Internal Revenue District during the past nine months. During the same time last year 192,831 barrels were made, or 93,286 barrels more this year, thus far, than last year, an increase of about fifty per cent., which shows that the Hub is rapidly becoming a beer-drinking city. It is estimated that Boston and its vicinity consumes annually not less than 450,000 barrels of lager and ale. There was a time when the Boston nose elevated itself at a high angle when a mug of lager was placed near it, but a bilious Legislature forced its introduction, and a little liberal legislation in turn encouraged its use as a beverage, until now the people have become quite Teutonized. The almost universal use of lager and ale have demonstrated the folly of the extreme temperance men of seizing a person by the throat and telling him what he shall drink and what he shall not drink. The Legislature cannot make the community temperate any more than it can make people pious at the point of the bayonet. King Gambrinus is worshiped by the descendants of the Puritans, who, having no barley to make into malt when they landed at Plymouth, were content, and thought it no fault to sweeten their lips with liquor made of pumpkins and parsnips and walnut chips. But they were not long in finding men who had "learned the noble secret how to brew," and as early as 1637 there was quite a number of breweries in Boston.

A Slander Retracted

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

The New York Evening Post, in printing the letter of Louis Dent denying that he attempted to influence the President in the McGarrahan case, says:

> "The Cincinnati Commercial owes Mr. Dent and the President a prompt apology for the statement which was injurious to the character of both, which is thus shown to be false, and which it had no right to make except upon the most precise information. It is not our way to attack with false reports, and as we reprinted and commented upon the Commercial's statement, we hasten to make public Mr. Dent's refutation of that. The good repute of the President of the United States ought to be dear to every citizen, no matter of what party, and it is grossly wrong to attack it without just and certain cause."

This is very just. But we think the Evening Post owes Mr. Boutwell as prompt an apology. In the column next to the above we read as follows: "It is time that the other heads of Departments should explain how they can remain in office when General Cox was driven out. Mr. Boutwell employs many more clerks than the Secretary of the Interior, has he retained his place by taxing his clerks for party purposes?" This is an insinuation of an untruth, made without just or certain cause. It is the universal testimony, borne equally by those who believe that his financial policy is fatally wrong and by those who agree with him that he has administered the Department and collected the revenue with a fidelity and earnestness which has already been of appreciable advantage to the general industry of the country. It is the result of reforms he has introduced into almost every branch of the Treasury service without making a fuss about it.

CHARRED POSTS.—The Manufacturer and Builder says that charring fence posts does not make them last longer, but on the contrary they decay sooner on account of that process. It says: Take two posts, char one of them and place them in the ground, when it will be found that the one not burned will last the longest. The reason is, that charcoal is not impervious to water. As the custom of burning the ends of posts of all kinds prevails in this country, perhaps the matter had better be tested. The journal from which we get the item however is good authority on all things that are worthy of consideration.

OREGON

No new cases of small pox are reported at Salem.

C. H. Miller, formerly of Oregon, author of Joaquin and other poems, is in London, writing letters for Pomeroy's Democrat.

The Marysville, Ohio, Tribune says that W. C. Meyer, of Jackson county, Oregon, has been in that vicinity purchasing fine horses to bring to this State.

The Corvallis Gazette of December 3d reports the seizure of Hunt's brewery by the United States Marshal for some violation of the Internal Revenue law.

A railroad meeting was held in Corvallis on Wednesday evening for the purpose of considering the project of building a railroad from Corvallis to Yaquina Bay. Dr. Bayley took a prominent part. A committee was appointed to obtain subscriptions to defray the expenses of sending a special agent to Washington to labor in behalf of the measure. Over $1,000 was raised at the meeting.

This from the Yreka Journal: Shultz, who was arrested last Monday morning, undoubtedly came to town to kill Wright, who informed on him. Had he not been so determined for revenge on Wright, and kept away from town, it is very doubtful if he had been caught. It is said he got away from nine policemen at Portland and had he not been surrounded by Ward and Hendricks, while eating his breakfast with a pistol each side of his head, he would probably have got away.

A meeting was held at Corvallis last week to consider the proposition to build a railroad to Yaquina Bay. The sense of the meeting was that the Indians ought to be removed from the Siletz and Alsea reservations and the land thus vacated donated by Congress to build a railroad. It was thought advisable to send somebody to Washington this winter to press the enterprise and to look out for the local interests of that section, and $1,000 was pledged by the meeting for that purpose.

The Corvallis Gazette has the following from Yaquina Bay: The Newport Freighting Company have completed their immense shed. The entire building now covers an area 81 feet wide by 122 feet long, average height 28 feet, making the largest building in Benton county. The shed is a permanent structure and will amply repay the Company in one season. The Company now hope to have their vessel ready for sea in March. R. T. Jordan has made a purchase of the steamer Washington, now at Umpqua, for parties here and intends running her here next spring, or sooner if necessary. Next spring will witness lively times on the Bay. Two saw mills are in operation. Probably two schooners will be required to meet the demands. The lighthouse building will give employment for thirty or forty men, and a new vessel will be placed on the stocks as soon as this one is off, and the steamers will manage to accommodate the traveling public. Settlers are coming in and actually "grabbing," the little vacant land left.

Weston's Last Walk

THE FIRST DAY'S PERFORMANCE IN THE ATTEMPT TO WALK 400 MILES IN FIVE DAYS

[From the N. Y. Herald November 22.]

Edward P. Weston, the celebrated pedestrian, yesterday morning commenced his great and final effort in the art of walking at the Empire Rink, Third avenue. The feat was mentioned among certain scientific individuals in New York as being too great for Weston to undertake, but it was no sooner known by the pedestrian that the matter was to receive the assent of a certain number of his supporters than he came forward, expressing his readiness to undertake the task. The programme is as follows:—The distance to be walked is 400 miles within the space of five days, eighty miles each day being the minimum distance to be gone over in order to bring the walker within time, the amount subscribed, and which, if successful, he will receive, being a purse of $5,000. After due consultation with his medical advisers it was arranged that Weston should undertake the task under their supervision, and in accordance with this agreement he arrived at the Rink prepared to start at a quarter past twelve o'clock A. M. yesterday. Weston is a good looking man, about five feet nine inches in height, with blue eyes and fair complexion, light hair and mustache, and is dressed in a suit of black velvet, with a snowy white full-dress shirt, white silk hat, a blue sash, bearing a Russian inscription, white kid gloves, top boots, reaching to the knee on the outside of the pantaloons, and carries in his hand a gold mounted riding whip. The six judges—Messrs. Winans, Dickinson, Spooner, McDougal, Morris and Isaacs—were present at the weighing, when it was ascertained that Weston, in the costume described, weighed 129 pounds. The path in the Rink has been carefully prepared, and the distance of one circuit, as stated by Faxter, the manager of the affair, under oath, is 735 and 84-100 feet, thirty six circuits being reckoned for each mile. According to this calculation, Weston will have to walk 28,070 circuits within five days, in order to secure the prize of $5,000. He commenced walking at 12:15 A. M. yesterday and walked twenty miles up to four A. M., he then stopped and rested until 7:58, when he started again, and continued walking until nineteen minutes past 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when he had accomplished exactly fifty miles. The average time occupied in walking each circuit up to his resting the last time, was one minute and forty three seconds. To-day he has undertaken to walk 112 miles within the twenty four hours, and if he can accomplish this the judges have no doubts as to his success in doing the entire distance within the specified time. Fink's band has been engaged, and will continue to cheer the pedestrian and the large concourse of visitors with their appropriate and lively music until the feat has been finished. It was extremely exciting to watch Weston as he tripped with the avidity of a ballet dancer, over the path in a regular and well timed step, turning round on his heel each time on reaching the judges' box and taking a reverse course. At the end of his fiftieth mile he appeared as lively and fresh as the moment when he first started, and each time the band struck up an air he beat the time with a whip, evidently charmed with the melody. A number of ladies were present witnessing the walking, with whom, to judge from the frequent clapping of hands, he is a great favorite. He walked eighty miles up to half past ten last evening, when he retired to rest, and will commence again at an early hour to-day.

[The telegraph has informed us that Weston failed to accomplish the feat.—ED. OREGONIAN.]

By Pigeon Express

A Paris letter, by balloon, contains this interesting paragraph:

Communication with the government at Tours has now been established with tolerable regularity, thanks to a few men who for some years past have had a fancy for carrier pigeons. These birds have been bred with great care, and only a few have been tried in bringing in news of the Chantilly races. But their instincts are almost unerring. Contrary to the general supposition the best birds are not the parents—those which have raised—but the young birds from eight to ten months. The prize birds, that is, those which took first prizes at the Exhibition here, are valued at 400 or 500 francs, or from $80 to $100. A gentleman who had near a hundred of these valuable pigeons was lately sent out to Tours in a balloon, carrying thirty of his pets. They are loosed with dispatches from thence, then they fly direct to the city, and are carried back in a balloon. The dispatches brought by pigeons are now photographed, being reduced in size so that a dispatch of the length of this paragraph can be put upon a piece of fine paper, no larger than a twenty-five cent piece in silver. With large magnifying glasses the writing can be easily read. The paper is very carefully bound around a single feather upon the body, and care must be taken to fasten it so that the tension will not incommode the bird, or he may pause to pluck out the feather. Several birds arrived without dispatches, and as it was clearly due to the want of experience in fastening the paper, the owner of the pigeons was sent out to Tours.

The Virginia Republican State Committee is called to meet in Richmond on the 14th of December to "consider subjects of the greatest importance."

The Law for Transporting Bonded Goods

From the Washington dispatch (Nov. 18) of the New York Herald we take the following:

Up to the present time there has not been a single application filed at the Treasury Department for the privilege of transporting goods without appraisement, under the new law allowing direct importation to certain inland and seaboard cities. The law went into effect on the 1st of October, and explicit regulations were prepared for the government of the railroad companies. The impression seems to prevail that Secretary Boutwell has made them unnecessarily strict, and if carried out will subject the companies to an expense not justified by the amount of business to be done. The friends of the measure will therefore appeal to Congress for a modification of the law and ask that the Secretary of the Treasury may be restricted within certain bounds in enforcing the law. On the other hand it is maintained by customs officials that the Secretary not only has not prescribed burdensome or unnecessary restrictions, but instructed the special agent of the Treasury Department who drew up the regulations, to give the companies the greatest latitude consistent with the good of the service. To this end he changed the plans of Acting Secretary Richardson in many ways, released the railroad companies from providing iron cars and simplified the plan for locking them. Secretary Boutwell was anxious the system should be thoroughly tested this season and before the assembling of Congress, in order that such changes might be made in the present law as would be suggested by experience. The friends of the measure contend that there is provision made for the appointment of too many salaried officers at the expense of the railroad companies. While the Secretary has discretionary authority he is bound to throw around the transportation of goods to inland cities such safeguards as the interests of the service demand. If the expenses entailed in complying with the regulations cannot be borne by the railroad companies out of the profits on their rates of freight, western merchants certainly cannot expect the government to do so. The desire of the Secretary will not be gratified for this reason, and in his report to Congress he will not be able to speak advisedly on the workings of the system. It is understood, however, that he will protest against any material alteration of the law until it has been tested, especially against releasing common carriers from the responsibility of a safe custody of goods entrusted to them.

The Summer is past and Autumn is here,
The finest season throughout the whole year
But the days grow cool and all must prepare
For warmer Clothing in Winter to wear.
Well KOHN & FISHEL of Clothing renown
Have the best supply ever brought to town
They have all sorts of coats and pants that will match,
That will last a whole year and not need a patch.
There are socks, vests and shirts and a thousand things more,
Which they offer you cheaper than ever before.
You all need the clothes and they need the tin,
Then get a new suit and let Winter go in.

...—The particulars of the capture of ... are thus given by the Yreka Journal: ... was caught in town last Monday morning, ... after daylight, by Hi Ward and John .... It was evident he had stopped over ... some place between Hawkinsville and ..., and being cold, came to town to warm ... and get something to eat. He proceeded to ... Bakin's saloon to get a drink before ..., where Hi Ward recognized him, and ... woke up John Hendricks, to assist ... making his arrest. They both followed ... to his breakfasting place, and with a ... in each side of his head, caused him ... and fork over a five shooter he had ... in his breast. He was first discovered ... named Wright, who seems to have been ... with him in Washington Territory, ... he made a pair of boots for him there. ... recognized him at work at Coultas' black... shop at Cottonwood, when they both went ... have a confidential talk. After this, ... got Schultz's pistol, and pawned it for ... funds to telegraph to Washington Ter... to find out how much reward was offered ... his arrest, which was answered that $150 ... offered in Washington Territory, and $500 ... Portland, Oregon. Wright, having been drink... showed the dispatch to several at Cotton... and afterwards came to Yreka, to inform ... Sheriff, stating that Schultz had threatened to ... Sheriff Burgess telegraphed to Port... and found the man answered the descrip... and that, altogether, $1,150 reward was of... for his capture. Schultz was at Riley's ... in Hawkinsville, on Sunday, anxiously in... for Wright, and was armed with a six ..., a five shooter and a yager. When ar... he said he did not intend to kill Wright, ... wanted to pound him, so that his nearest ... would not recognise him, as he had stolen ... to raise money towards telegraphing to ... Territory about him. Schultz is ... a very shrewd and hard case, and needs ... watching to keep him in safe custody.

... INVENTOR.—There is now at work in the ... Company's machine shops, near East ..., a modest-looking man, of reserved and ... studious manners, who, neverthe... is creating some sensation among the scien... men of the country as an inventor. Our at... was called, last August, by a friend of ... a couple of machines illustrated in the ... Press, one "a new steam ram and marine ..." the other, "a direct-acting double oscil... engine." ... no opposition to Holman for Chief .... According to the charter J. Koenig is ... Assistant, and G. W. Hansel Second .... Last year the entire vote was 173, ... year before 122.

... SPECIALTIES.—The prospectus of a new ... weekly journal has been received. ... a great number of generalities ... it will be devoted, it enumerates twenty- ... subjects, with as many more subdivisions, ... of the "specialties" to which the journal ... attention! The list concludes with an ... from which we may infer that the propri... have "specialties" enough on hand to last ... of the millenium. After that, ... knows what they will find to talk about.

... NOTICES.—Mr. J. B. Miller, watch... and jeweler, lately doing business at the ... of Front and Alder, has moved into one ... handsome rooms in Corbett's building on ... street, where he now displays an immense ... of costly and elegant watches and jewelry. ... similar establishments are giving our ... a decidedly metropolitan appearance, ... most unmistakably the growing ... of the country.

... Wm. A. Daly, who has been for years con... with the press of this city as typo, propri... reporter, has wisely abandoned the craft ... into the mercantile business. He has ... out W. B. Norman, at the corner of Wash... and First, and having added very largely ... already splendid stock, is prepared to sell ... lower prices than ever all sorts of holiday ... toys in endless variety, fancy goods, ... albums, Yankee notions, cutlery, ... Having been a "poor printer," we ... our friend William will now become a "rich ..." and good luck to him.

... TEMPLARS' LODGE ORGANIZED.—Dr. M. ... Rerick, State Lecturer, organized Dairy ... Lodge, I. O. G. T., on Monday, the 28th ... November, with twenty charter members .... Officers are: W. F. Fowler, W. C. T; Susan ..., W. V. T.; J. M. Mills, W. Sec., W. B. ..., W. F. Sec.; John Mills, W. M.; John ..., W. C.; Jane Wilson, I. G.; John Wil..., O. G.; Levi Loelling, P. W. C. T.; Laura ..., R. S.; Emeline Russell, L. S.

... NOT DENY HIS IDENTITY.—We under... that Bargman, brought here the other night ... Yreka, does not deny that he is the Barg... commonly called Shultz last summer) who ... from the Steilacoom jail; but he does ... that he was at Portland at all. His defense ... probably be that favorite one of Weller, san... "a alayby."

EXCURSION TO THE FRONT.—Judge Rice, Gov. ... and others of the North Pacific railroad ..., went up on the O. & C. Railroad, Sunday, ... several miles beyond Jefferson and back. ... understand they were much pleased, not only ... the road and its bridges and trestle work, ... with the country through which they passed.

THE COURTS.

Monday, Dec. 5, 1870.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, J.—Fred Norman vs. Pierre Manciet; evidence taken; Mason for plaintiff; Whalley & Fechheimer for defendant. All jurors not empanneled in the above case, were excused for the term.

J. Quinn Thornton, on motion of Whalley, was admitted to practice at the bar of this court.

W. A. Mills, J. S. Rinearson, E. S. McComas, T. K. Williams and J. H. Lambert, petit jurors, not answering when called, came in and for cause shown were excused for their nonattendance.

Thomas W. Poindexter, of Grant county, was appointed U. S. Commissioner.

The resignation of T. B. Odoneal of Benton, as U. S. Commissioner was received and filed.

The Court adjourned till to morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON JUDGE.—State of Oregon vs Shultz alias Bargman; defendant arraigned on two indictments—one for the shooting and robbery of John Holton; the other for an assault with a dangerous weapon; the defendant gave his name as George Bargman; B. Killin was appointed attorney for the defense, and defendant given till to-morrow morning to plead. Gibbs for the State.

State of Oregon vs P. Ryan, P. Riley and Geo. Bowman; cause tried; verdict of jury "not guilty." Gibbs for State; Caples & Moreland for the defense.

Ed. Kahn vs Lewis Love; order entered to take depositions. Shattuck for plaintiff; Caples & Moreland for defendant.

A venire was issued for three additional jurors for the day; to which the Sheriff returned the names of Wm Watkins and J. F. Bybee.

State of Oregon vs John Luber; order allowing C. A. Ball $15 for defending the defendant.

Order of the Court allowing attorneys pay for defending Foster and Hackney, was also entered.

R. Pittock vs Lownsdale heirs; order for confirmation of title.

John Green, juror, excused for the term.

H. C. Dray vs E. Bush; order giving defendant till to-morrow to file answer.

M. J. Patton vs Lownsdale heirs; order for publications of summons.

State of Oregon vs Thos. Johnson, Geo. Brown and C. Bernard: on trial at adjournment of the court.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, JUDGE.—The December term of this court opened at 10 A. M. A few unimportant motions were disposed of, when the court adjourned till to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The river is again remarkably low, and at low tide the slum beds along the city front "small to Heaven."

The Senator yesterday morning unloaded a heavy freight of flour into the bark Whistler, for San Francisco.

The steamship Oriflamme is to sail for San Francisco, on Thursday, Dec 8th, at 4 o'clock P. M.

The ringing of fire bells last evening was not on account of a fire alarm, but in honor of the elected engineers of the Fire Department.

A long train of cars was backed down to the dock at Clinton's Point yesterday afternoon to load with rails from the bark Ganges.

A billiard tournament in this city, for amateurs only, is talked of.

Van Tassel, the original "Hungry Brother," has made his annual round, returned to this city and is boarding for a few days at the Metropolitan Jail.

A train of twenty-eight cars, drawn by the locomotive Salem, came down late Sunday night from Jefferson.

John Kennedy and wife to J. J. Allard; warranty deed; lot 4 in block 20, Portland; consideration $750.

AMUSEMENTS.

GEO FINO THEATER.—The nautical drama of "Captain Kyd" was repeated last evening and taken off the stage for the present, and will be succeeded by "The Hunchback" and the farce entitled "The Review," for one night only. In the farce Mr. James Cooke will make his first appearance, in a very laughable comic character. "Rob Roy" and "Mazeppa" are in course of preparation and will soon be brought out.

GOOD TEMPLARS GRAND LODGE INCORPORATED.—The Grand Lodge of Good Templars filed its articles of incorporation in the County Clerk's office yesterday. The object is the promotion of abstinence from intoxicating liquors of all kinds. The Trustees are C. Beal, Jacob Conser, J. B. McClane and J. A. Smith.

COMING.—We see by the Olympia Tribune of the 2d inst. that the Pixley Sisters and others of the dramatic company lately playing at the Theater Royal, Victoria, are en route for Portland by way of the Sound. They are announced to appear in a dramatic entertainment at Olympia on Wednesday evening, the 7th inst.

LAUNCH.—We are informed that the new ferry boat being built at East Portland is to be launched to-day.

"There's many a true word spoken in jest," says the proverb. Twenty-one years ago Mr. Thackery contributed to Punch a series of imaginary newspaper extracts descriptive of "England in 1869," from journals of the period. One of these extracts announced the intended marriage of one of the Queen's daughters with the eldest son of a nobleman connected with or related to Cabinet Ministers and great officers of state, including in particular the Archbishop of Canterbury. What he wrote in jest for the "England of 1869" is almost literal truth in the "England of 1870," and bating a little humorous exaggeration, the language he employed is identical in spirit, if not in the letter, with the terms in which the various London journals have made known and commented on the Princess Louise's engagement. At the time the paragraph appeared Her Royal Highness was the youngest child of her parents, being in fact little more than ten months old, and might very well have passed for the "Princess Bondicea" of the humorist. The Duke of Argyll was then a clever but somewhat forward young man, known, where known at all out of Scotland, for his attachment to the Established Church of that kingdom, and for one or two pamphlets in censuring the Free Church movement.

Great sages have spoken, in prose and in rhyme,
That nothing in value is equal to Time.
Then how can we save those moments that fly?
Why, get a good watch to measure them by.
Well, STONE has the watches of silver and gold,
For Ladies and Gents, and they have to be sold.

December is here, with her storms and her rain,
And it makes the folks of cold weather complain
Hark ye, dear gentlemen, this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm, for O'NEIL & CO.
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof 'gainst the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply, that all who go there,
Unlike Flora McFlimsey, can find something to wear

IMPORTANT TO SUFFERERS FROM NERVOUS EXCITEMENT.—A gentleman residing in Grammercy Place, New York, (whose name it would not be proper to mention,) was suffering terribly about three weeks ago from the effects of dissipation. He could not sleep, vomited frequently, was tormented by horrible fancies, and could not keep a limb still. Opiates made him worse. While in this condition he was visited by a friend, who advised him to try PLANTATION BITTERS as an anodyne, stomachic and tonic. "No use," said the sick man despondingly; "nothing will save me. I'm a gone case." "Pshaw!" said his friend, "you're worth forty dead men yet; I'm going to be your doctor now." So saying, he put on his hat and going to the nearest druggist's, presently returned with a bottle of the Bitters of which he administered a dose forthwith. It had a soothing, cheering, tranquilizing effect and in a week he was restored to perfect health. This information is furnished by A. T. Minthrom, of Morrisania, who will confirm it if addressed by mail.

SEA MOSS FARINE from pure Irish Moss, for Blanc Mange, Puddings, Custards, Creams, &c., &c. The cheapest, healthiest and most delicious food in the world.

WHAT IS QUILLAYA SAPONARIA?—It is a tree, the bark of a Chilian Tree, which yields, when macerated, a fragrant vegetable soap with cleaning and antiputrescent properties not possessed by any other vegetable production. This Bark is a prominent constituent of the celebrated SOZODONT, the most popular dental preparation ever introduced into America.

$3 WATCH! $3 WATCH!
THE GREAT EUROPEAN
EUREKA ALUMINUM GOLD WATCH COMPANY
Have appointed
J. F. WILLIAMS & CO., Jewelers,
561 Broadway, New York,
SOLE AGENTS FOR THE U. S.,

AND HAVE AUTHORIZED THEM TO SELL THEIR great EUREKA ALUMINUM GOLD WATCHES for Three Dollars, and to warrant each and every one to keep correct time for one year. This Watch we guarantee to be the best and cheapest time-keeper that is now in use in any part of the globe. The works are in double cases, Ladies' and Gents' size, and are beautifully chased. The cases are made of the metal now so widely known in Europe as Aluminum Gold. It has the exact color of Gold, which it always retains; it will stand the test of the strongest acids; no one can tell it from Gold only by weight, the Aluminum Gold being one-fourth lighter. The works are all made by machinery, the same as the well-known American Watch. We pack the Watch safely in a small box and send it by mail to any part of the United States on receipt of $3 50; fifty cents for packing and postage. A key is sent free with each Watch. Money should be sent by Postoffice Money Order or in a Registered Letter. Address all orders and communications to

To Whom it may Concern:

CAUTION.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS THAT THOMAS & MAST, of the City of Springfield, county of Clarke and State of Ohio, do hereby appoint and constitute Messrs. KNAPP, BURRELL & CO., of Portland, Oregon, our sole and exclusive Agents for the sale of the "BUCKEYE GRAIN DRILL AND GRASS SEED SOWER," (Patented and Manufactured by us,) in and for the State of Oregon and the Territory of Washington, for the period of one year from the date hereof. And we hereby warn and forbid any other person or persons to sell any of said Drills, made under our patents, in said State and Territory; and any person or persons who may so sell to others any of said Drills, except they are purchased through the said Knapp, Burrell & Co., or their agents, will be fully dealt with according to law. Parties who wish to purchase will govern themselves accordingly, thus obviating all risks of liability in buying of parties who have no right to sell in the Territory aforesaid.

Why Don't the Man Propose.

An Eastern "Society paper" has this article:

A social question of great importance to the parties concerned is being discussed by uppertendom, since the return of the votaries of fashion from their summer resorts by the seaside, at the watering-places, or in the mountains. It is simply "Why don't the men propose?" With all the bonhommie and openheartedness of paterfamilias, with all the moonlight walks and solitary strolls, the confidential whispering and fervent glances of the fair damsels themselves, the depressing fact remains, that but few matches have been made, but few attempts ended in aught but disastrous failure.

Miss Belle, of Murray Hill, has returned to the paternal residence with a very fair prospect of remaining there for some time to come, for, if Adolphus could not be brought to the point in the summer solstice, while seated alone with her in shady grove, or in some natural alcove, gazing out on the 'sad sea waves,' what hope is there of his being so in the crowded ball-room or at the evanescent reception?

Musing, then, in solitary sadness over the summer campaign, what wonder is it that the question should obtrude itself, "Why don't the men propose?" She says, and with truth, "I am very good looking; I have had a fair education; I can play a little on the piano, and sufficiently on the harp to show the whiteness and beauty of my arm; I can dance a little, sing a little, dress very well, indeed, and I have no doubt could preside, with due grace and dignity, over a fashionable dinner-table. What more can he want?" And it has been so often instilled into her mind that this is all that is necessary for a due performance of her duties in that state of life to which it has pleased God to call her, that really there is nothing strange in her somewhat petulant self-inquiry, "Why is it that I can't get Adolphus to propose?"

The fault is not hers. She has done what she could, considering the education she has received, and deeming herself an eligible parti, doubtless thinks herself very ill-used. But young men are beginning to see that fashion doesn't pay, and that it is far better for them to live single than to saddle themselves with the dead weight of one of those dolls, who have no more idea of managing a household than they have of translating Homer, or understanding the pons asinorum.

"But," says Miss Belle, "what need is there of managing a household? Adolphus is rich enough to hire as many servants as we want, and a housekeeper to manage them. Papa and mamma have always got along so, and why can't we?" But, my dear young lady, has it never occurred to you that Adolphus can get a home almost like the one you propose at much less trouble and expense? The gilded haunts of pleasure are always open to him, and their obsequious occupants are ready to do their utmost for his gratification, while his wealth lasts to reward them. But such a home and such a life can give no real happiness. He is already beginning to find that the pleasures of the world pall upon his taste, and he wants a home; but your ideas of home and his are not the same. You think only of a place where you will be your own mistress, freed from the restraint of maternal admonition, and at liberty to follow your own bent. You dream of eternal rounds of pleasure, a splendid establishment, ball-rooms, theaters, receptions, ad lib. This is not his idea, and the sooner you learn this the better.

Give him to understand that you would desire nothing better than an occasional social evening at home with him; that you would meet him when he returns from business with a bright, smiling, happy face, instead of the absorbing preoccupation or fretful exhaustion which the routine of fashionable follies gives you; that you would raise up children to him, who may in your declining years be a comfort and solace to you both, instead of considering maternity a bore; that you would not leave your children to the care of hirelings, who, taken pattern from yourself, also deem them a nuisance, and leave them pretty much to their own resources; that, in short, you would make his house so pleasant for him that he would not be driven to his club, or to some more pernicious haunt even than that, for very comfort's sake. He is weary of the empty shams of society, he wants to get away from them altogether; but he knows if he marries you he will be doubling them, adding your circle of acquaintances to his own.

Revenue Reformers, So-called.

The Troy Daily Times dissents from the policy of the Revenue Reformers, and gives the following excellent reasons:

"A high tariff is a revenue necessity, and must be a necessity, for many years to come. The protection it affords to our manufacturing industries is by no means the least of its advantages. Take a home illustration: Troy and the surrounding villages, including the City of Cohoes, have a population of more than 80,000 souls. The prosperity here enjoyed and the progress made in wealth and population were secured, for the most part, from our manufacturers. Here are these scores of thousands of people requiring the necessities of life which agriculture supplies. And a reliable home market for the farmers of all this section and for the agricultural producers of the great West, is here afforded. The prosperity is not, therefore, confined to ourselves from the manufacturing industry, but is largely diffused throughout the country, even reaching to the vast prairies of the West. Grant that farmers under the tariff system affording them the advantage of a reliable home market have to pay a cent or two more a pound for their nails and the other articles manufactured of iron which they have to use; that is mere nothing compared to the direct pecuniary benefits of which they are the recipients. It is like the paying out of a dollar and gaining five dollars in return. A diversified industry is absolutely essential to the prosperity of the country. Nothing could be more insane, in an economic point of view, than the Free-Trade policy advocated by the so-called Revenue Reformers. It would concentrate our National industry upon agriculture as a necessity of subsistence. The prices of agricultural products would fall fifty or a hundred per cent. below the present low rates. And, as often happened in the earlier history of our country, there would be periods of over supply for the foreign market, when breadstuffs could not be sold for cash at all. Yet we have men and newspapers, sane upon most other subjects, actually advocating the disruption of the Republican party, and the organization of a Revenue Reform concern to take its place, whose policy would inaugurate just such a condition of things. The scheme is fanatical to the last degree. It will prove a failure, and will neither impair the strength nor the integrity of the Republican party."

WHO SHALL BE THE NEXT DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT, HENDRICKS OR HOFFMAN?—The starting of the name of Governor Hoffman as the next candidate for the Presidency has awakened the Western democrats, who are beginning to push forward their favorite, who is, undoubtedly, Senator Hendricks, of Indiana. Treating upon this topic the Lafayette (Indiana) Journal—an influential paper in that section of the State—remarks that "the friends of Senator Hendricks were very outspoken in declaring that his Presidential aspirations hinged upon the success or failure of the democratic ticket in Indiana. There was no secret made of the fact that Senator Hendricks' friends felt impelled to especial effort. With the success of the party in Indiana his hands were strengthened, and he set at once about the combinations which should secure him the Presidential nomination. This advantage, however, has been fully offset by Hoffman's very successful race in the Empire State. Mr. Hendricks is wise as a serpent and wily as a fox, but in a Tammany leader will doubtless find his match. The plot and counterplot of the game will be an interesting study."

Russia covets,
Turkey fears;
Austria ponders,
Italia cheers.

Belgium—Holland,
Wait in dread;
Denmark's palsied,
Spain is dead.

France lies bleeding,
Prussia soars;
Britannia shuts her eyes
And—snores.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d4ptf

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect.

THE RIVERSIDE

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON,

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS to their Stock.

Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made before the books were opened, and a large number of Shares have been taken.

The following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin will convey a good idea of the plan and workings of the Association, the location of the land, etc., etc.:

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since, is now ready to dispose of shares. As it is with one exception, (the organization of that kind in this city,) the pioneer [illegible] well enough to state what are the plans, and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are designed for the profits of their [illegible] general advance in the value of their lands, consequent upon the co-operation of many individuals—shareholders—and the advance on values of all surrounding lands by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of, but still near, the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, the nearest ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Wallamet river, half a mile in length, and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad, half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them,) the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks, 200 feet square, with streets running at right angles and the [illegible] at lots, along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $50 per share. [illegible] coming in for the profits [illegible] number of shares held. [illegible] taken and the Association [illegible] mine to do it, the choice of [illegible] will be put up at [illegible] bidder, the proceeds of such [illegible] the original price of shares [illegible] equally among the whole [illegible]. Thus, if a person wants a [illegible] and is willing to pay $100 or $500 [illegible] or less as the case may be for the [illegible] the lot or block as his [illegible] premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders. [illegible] [illegible] No man can [illegible] out also making a dollar for [illegible] shareholder. [illegible] the property, by some [illegible] far below the first [illegible] liable to happen [illegible] tract of land must be [illegible] but considering the [illegible] vance on real estate in this city and neighborhood, and at East Portland [illegible] last year or two, it [illegible] values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all [illegible] tions seem to have been [illegible] monopolies of shares. No [illegible] buy more than the number of [illegible] three blocks, or twenty-four lots [illegible] terminating the operations of the [illegible] restricted in the same manner. [illegible] shares may pay down $50 per share [illegible] exempt them from all [illegible] pay $15 quarterly with [illegible] share, payable with the first [illegible] be any chance of loss to shareholders [illegible] other) assessment of $3 per share [illegible] payment of the shares in full, with the [illegible] as above, the holder is entitled to [illegible] and his proportion of all the profits [illegible] all sources. No officer of the [illegible] any pay for services except the $3 [illegible] gets $25 per month; so it will be [illegible] expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 80 feet above the water. There is no part of the city of Portland and the river for miles up and down [illegible] stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is, every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of the [illegible] of the tract, affording the means of irrigation, and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste lot of ground, or lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages, it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder, if he chooses, may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest, undivided, with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making homesteads on the outskirts of this city and East Portland, is being much discussed here [illegible] "Riverside," just south of East Portland, has lately been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is shaped like the letter H, one side of which, a half mile in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead, which is elevated but a trifle above the river, the plateau is from forty or fifty feet above the river, can be had a magnificent view of Portland, East Portland, the shipping, and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile, and is partly covered with fine timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks, with an avenue between them, connects the west part of the H (which has already been described) with that of the east. This last tract of land is a beautiful little valley, which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through its whole length runs a trout brook, the water of which is clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the Association proposes to have water conveyed through pipes to every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.
